

BattenDoor
SERIES

The Batten Series features sleek, vertical slats (battens) that bring a modern, minimalist aesthetic to any space. These doors are designed with precision, creating clean lines that emphasize verticality and simplicity. The series combines architectural elegance with durability, making it suitable for both residential and commercial applications. The battens add texture and visual interest without overwhelming the facade, allowing them to blend seamlessly into a variety of modern environments.

The Batten Series is versatile and adaptable, offering a modern yet timeless solution for any property that values clean design, functionality, and architectural refinement. It suits homes and spaces that aim to showcase understated elegance while maintaining a bold, structured presence.

This design complements the following home styles:

Modern Homes – The sleek, minimalist design of the Batten Series is perfect for modern homes that prioritize clean lines, simplicity, and contemporary materials.

Industrial-Style Homes – The raw, functional aesthetic of the batten design fits well with industrial architecture, which often features exposed materials like concrete, metal, and glass.

Urban Lofts and City Dwellings – For urban homes or loft-style apartments, the vertical slats offer a sophisticated, streamlined look that complements the fast-paced, minimalist vibe of city living.

Minimalist Homes – In homes that emphasize simplicity and open spaces, the Batten Series adds structure without disrupting the minimalist design principles.

High-End Commercial Spaces – The Batten Series is ideal for high-end retail or commercial buildings where modern design and architectural elegance are paramount.

Contemporary or Transitional Homes – The doors blend well with contemporary homes that combine traditional and modern elements, adding a sleek, updated look to the facade.
